JOHN JOHNSON MAKES HIS EXIT FROM THIS VALE OF TEARS.

He Met Death With an Indifference Remarkable and Betrayed no Fear. The Story of His Execution and His Crime.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., August 16.—Beneath the rays of a broiling sun and in the presence of fully 8,000 people, John Johnson, the negro murderer of Policeman Charles Evans, paid the penalty of his crime an hour before noon today. Johnson spent a good night, sleeping well. At 6 o'clock he expressed a desire for fruit, calling for four apples, two bananas and a quart of grapes, which he ate with apparent relish. At 7:30 o'clock he stated that he was ready for breakfast. Jailer Chouault set before him half a chicken, two slices of ham, a good sized piece of steak, three soft boiled eggs, two pieces of toast, four biscuits, two slices of light bread, a cup of coffee, a glass of milk, half a dozen pears, two oranges, two bananas and a basket of grapes, every morsel of which he ate.

Rev. Alexander Vixian, of the Colored Baptist church, came to give him spiritual advice. He sang and prayed until 10 o'clock, when he called for a plate of ice cream and a pound of cake, which he ate with as much relish as if he had not partaken of a morsel.

At 10:12 the death warrant was read by Sheriff Sledd. Johnson received it with a smile and said: "That don't amount to anything. It's all foolishness. I'm ready to go and don't need to hear any more of the law. It's no good."

A pair of handcuffs were then placed about his wrists, and at 9:30, accompanied by Sheriff Sledd and Deputy Jones and Rev. Vixian, he entered the wagon and was driven to the scaffold, half a mile away. A guard of 25 men, armed with Winchesters, followed the wagon.

At 10:55 Johnson mounted the steps of the scaffold with a steady gait and stood for a moment looking upon the crowd about him, occasionally bowing in recognition of the salute of some acquaintance.

Sheriff Sledd asked him if he had anything to say, to which he replied:

"Brother Vivian will do all the talking for this party."

The colored minister then made a short address, in which he said that "Johnny" had repented and that he felt that he had been forgiven of his sins and was ready to meet his fate, hoping to meet all of his friends, and enemies as well, in a better and happier land. Two hymns were then sung and, after a prayer by the minister, Johnson stepped upon the trap without a tremor and said to Deputy Jones: "It's getting mighty hot. See how I am sweating. Let us get through with this; I am ready."

The straps were quickly buckled about his wrists and ankles, the noose adjusted, with the knot behind the left ear, and the black cap drawn. Deputy Jones said "Goodby," Sheriff Sledd said "God have mercy on your soul," to which Johnson replied "Amen," and at 11:17 o'clock Deputy Jas. F. Stockdale pulled the lever.

Johnson shot through the opening as straight as an arrow. The rope was too long and his feet hit the sod and sent the body upward again. A second later it was noticed it was motionless, with the toes resting on the sod. Half a dozen convulsive jerks of the knees and shrugs of the shoulders and the body settled for the last time. Johnson was not dead. Though he was not breathing his heart was still beating and his pulse registered 102. Twenty-five minutes had elapsed when County Physician Pierce pronounced him dead. Coroner Estlin cut him down and an examination by half a dozen physicians proved he had died of strangulation, his neck having remained unbroken.

The crime for which Johnson suffered death was the brutal murder of Policeman Charles Evans on the night of June 15. Evans, together with Officer Horace Lane, attempted to arrest Johnson, when the negro drew his pistol and fired, the first shot striking Lane's star, the second striking Evans in the stomach, from the effect of which wound he died the following day.

Judge Cooper called a special term of court and Johnson was given a speedy, though fair and impartial trial, which resulted in his conviction and the imposing of the death penalty.

Johnson was a desperate negro and had been guilty of many crimes, having just returned from the penitentiary four days previous to the murder of Evans.

This is Montgomery county's first legal hanging since 1864.

"It is the best patent medicine in the world" is what Mr. E. M. Hartman, of Marquam, Oregon, says of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. "What leads me to make this assertion is from the fact that dysentery in its worst form was prevalent around here last summer and it never took over two or three doses of that remedy to effect a complete cure." For sale by John M. Rose.

How many will sign this pledge? "I will try to be kind to all harmless living creatures, and try to protect them from cruel usage." We hear much justly said in defense of human rights, but how seldom do we hear a word spoken in behalf of the faithful ox or horse that heave with many a weary step and many a groan our heavy burdens.

Rumor has it that forty Winchesters have been shipped into Morgan county to defend illicit distilleries. The shiners are said to have a regular organization and the assault made by the Terrell brothers on Deputy Marshal Green Lacy last Sunday tends to corroborate the rumor.

HE WANTED A WIFE

AND USED THE NEWSPAPERS TO AID HIM IN HIS QUEST FOR BLISS.

He Received a Proposition From a Young Lady Who Thinks She Can Fill the Bill—She Weighs 215 Pounds and Can Plow.

Some weeks ago J. D. Harmon, of Lancaster, advertised for a wife. He wanted a woman of fine points and good qualities and was by no means modest in his requirements. "In fact," says the Danville Advocate, "he was so fastidious in enumerating the virtues and beauties of the article desired that in looking like folly to expect a satisfactory subject. He has, however, received numerous applications for more particulars from lonely females willing to commit matrimony. Among them was the following epistle, which was received by the Record from Elizabeth L. Blevins, of Nicholasville, Ky.:

"Editor Record—I am astonished at J. D. Harmon's manner of procuring a wife. I am 24 years old, weigh 215 pounds, have a good education, can wash, cook, plow, etc., but I don't know how to be devoted to him unless he will come to see me. I am willing to get up at five o'clock, if we go to bed early. I should like to have a description of Mr. Harmon, and also an inventory of his property. Please let me know what springs he attends in the summer, what kind of a house he lives in and what kind of carriage he has. He must be a Republican and work for that party. Is he smart? Tell him to send me his photograph or come to see me."

"Now, this sounds like business. There is nothing to indicate whether the said Elizabeth is maid or widow, but it is easy to conclude that she has been there before. She's business from the word go. Mr. Harmon, too, is called upon to qualify before he is given a mortgage that only death or the divorce courts can dissolve. I imagine that Mr. Harmon, after reading this note, prepared to move 75 or 100 miles further away from Nicholasville. It would keep a man in a restless state all the time to live within twenty miles of Elizabeth. 'Twenty-four years old, weighs two hundred and fifteen pounds and can plow.' Gee-whillikins!"

Dr. Guerrant has traveled all over Eastern Kentucky as an evangelist, and has converted hundreds of the mountaineers.

The Lay of the Wraith.

I. N. Phipps, of Mt. Sterling, and formerly of Morgan county, is the author of a volume of poems just published by John P. Morton & Co., of Louisville, Ky. "The Lay of the Wraith" is the title given this beautiful version of an Indian legend. It is written in much the same style of Longfellow's Indian legends, and it reminds one of "The Song of Hiawatha," both in its measure of verse and sentiment. There are seventy-one of the shorter poems which the author calls "Simple Songs and Echoes of the Heart." Some of them are very touching and one can easily read between the lines sketches of the author's life as can be seen from reading the following:

"Oh! bitter the day and cold,
Oh! stormy the night and long,
When my lost love, my Leoline,
Went down in the billows strong."

"Oh! why should thy waves return
To thy bosom again, O sea!
When my lost love, my Leoline,
Can never come back to me?"
This book should find a welcome place in every home.

The debate between Elder Howard, of the Church of God, and Elder Kendrick, of the Christian church of Danville, held at Morehead not long since, was declared off by the moderators of the Church of God. Both sides claim a victory and, as usual, the breach instead of being closed is widened more and more.

The Winchester Democrat says that "a Mt. Sterling girl's quarrel with another girl of that city has developed the fact that she was engaged to five different fellows." Well, what if she was? Is the Democrat jealous because Winchester girls are not so popular? Maybe the Mt. Sterling girls will "divy up" sweethearts with the lonesome and neglected lassies of their neighboring city. We'll wager our last "jit," however, that a Mt. Sterling girl will never get left.

Some folks claim that on account of the many cider mills in operation in Kentucky this year that the bees will make honey from it, which will sour, and cause them to starve to death in consequence. We are of the opinion, however, that by the time the average Kentuckian has taken on a few "loads of apples," that there will be precious little cider left for the bees. If they think to get on a pay-day "jag" from the cider that is left they will be the most sadly sold lot of insects that ever pinned their faith to a Kentuckian's capacity.

Congressman Hunter, of Bowling Green, has a large amount of that commodity usually termed "gall." He wrote to Governor Holcomb, (Populist) of Nebraska, asking him to raise a fund in his state to help carry Kentucky Republican this fall. The governor answered, "Nay, nay, Pauline; I will never assist in placing Kentucky in the power of such an organization as the Republican party." Which goes to show that the governor is a sensible old gentleman and leads us to conclude that there are men in the Populist party who have brains as well as whiskers.

WILL BE LYNCHED.

CHARGED WITH OUTRAGING HIS 12-YEAR OLD DAUGHTER.

John Allen is the Son of the Friend and He, Together With John Brandy, Broke Jail—Brandy Caught Near Morehead.

John Brandy, charged with forging an order on a Martinsburg merchant, and John Allen, who is charged with outraging his twelve-year-old daughter, broke jail at Martinsburg, the county seat of Elliott county, eighteen miles distant from Morehead, Thursday night. Town Marshal L. A. Day arrested Brandy four miles below Morehead Saturday. Allen is still at large, but if caught and returned to Martinsburg he will surely be lynched, as the charges against him have just become known. Allen is forty-seven years old, and has been married four times. The girl is a daughter of his first wife.

One night when Mr. Isaac Reese was staying with me, says M. F. Hatch, a prominent merchant of Quartermaster, Washington, I heard him groaning. On going to his room I found him suffering from cramp colic. He was in such agony I feared he would die. I hastily gave him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. He was soon relieved and the first words he uttered were, "what was that stuff you gave me?" I informed him. A few days ago we were talking about his attack and he said he was never without that remedy now. I have used it in my family for several years. I know its worth and do not hesitate to recommend it to my friends and customers. For sale by John M. Rose.

Some few days ago Jesse Simpson shot Carlo Hoskins, near the Clay county line, in Laurel, and made his escape through the mountains to his step-father's, Bill Stewart, about two miles from London. Since that time most of the officers have been searching the hills for him, but have failed to find him.

The Teachers' Institute of Wolfe county will be held at Hazel Green beginning August 26, 1905, and continuing five days. The instructor will be Prof. John C. Willis, of Mitchell, Ind. All the teachers of the county and those holding a certificate to teach are required by the law to attend. Thursday is "Trustee Day" and Thursday afternoon will be devoted to the duties and work of the trustees, and all the trustees of the county are requested to be present. APPLE JACK YEAR.

ENORMOUS GAIN IN THE COUNTRY'S APPLE CROP.

Kentucky Leads All Other States By a Percentage Averaging 101.—The Peach Crop Was Not as Heavy As Was Expected.

The official returns sent out from Washington for August show that the prospective fruit crop of the country, taken as a whole, is much larger than for several years. There are some states in which the apple crop promised is less than half of the normal product. This is the case in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Michigan and Wisconsin.

There is a very general increase in index figures, the percentages ranging from 28 in Michigan to 49 in Vermont. Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and Iowa show conditions between 50 and 60. Fifteen states, New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Missouri, Nebraska, Colorado and the Pacific coast states have condition 80 or over, and of these, six, New Jersey, Kentucky, Arkansas, Indiana, Missouri and Colorado are above 90, Kentucky going to 101. Ohio and Illinois, with conditions 73 and 72 respectively, stand between the high and low.

The crop is reported to be generally short in the northern, but abundant in the southern portions of these states. The general average condition is 71.2 against 44 of last year. The average condition of peaches, August 1, is 33.3, against 22.3 in 1904. The prospective yields have declined heavily in Delaware, where about one-third of the normal crop is now indicated. New Jersey has also suffered, her percentage falling 12 points and resting now at 61. The conditions are high in Connecticut and Georgia, respectively 92 and 104. Maryland hopes for two-thirds of a crop, Virginia something under that portion. A very short crop is indicated for Ohio, and for Michigan about half the normal product.

Railroads in the Mountains.

The increase in mileage of Kentucky railroads this year is not of much consequence. Beyond a few branch lines no new roads of consequence are even talked of. Several partially completed railroads are now in the hands of receivers, with little probability of anything being done for some time to extricate them from their difficulties. In regard to new railroads, especially it is true that branch roads are needed in Eastern Kentucky. The Lexington and Eastern railway barely touches the edge of the great coal fields of that portion of the state. It should be extended for at least forty miles and then branches built up the long creeks that empty into the north fork of the Kentucky river. When this is done the immense quantities of coal and timber in the counties of Breathitt, Wolfe, Knott, Perry, Letcher and Morgan can be gotten out. Then there is the R. N. I. & B., at present in the hands of a receiver, and its terminus at Irvine. True, it is partly graded to Beatyville, but no effort is being made to extend it. This road should go up the south fork of the Kentucky and finally reach Pineville or Midway. There is some talk of extending the Kentucky and South Atlantic from Rothwell to the Morgan county canal coal fields, and also of building a branch from the Lexington and Eastern at Elkatawa to the same rich fields. Another branch road talked of is a short line from Wellsburg, Lewis county, on the C. and O., to Brookville, fifteen miles away. It is very probable that several of these branches will be built within a year.—Courier-Journal.

A Blue-Grass Production.

A young lady in Lincoln county wrote to the trustees of a certain school for the position of teacher, and received the response that they intended to "higher a mail teacher."

Mrs. Matilda Yontz, a North Harlan county woman, has just made a rich find, but she is keeping her mouth shut about it. She was going to Hyden to do some trading, and saw a mole's trail on the roadside. Determining to kill the mole, she dismounted and started after it. She dug into the ground with an old piece of board and found a leather sack filled with gold and silver. Nearly all the silver was Mexican money and was in one dollar pieces. She refuses to tell the amount the bag contained, but her friends say it was "pretty considerable." The Mountain News says she found two sacks of money, but a report from there is to the effect that she only dug up one bag, and it was so badly rotted it was falling to pieces when found.

If the Garden of Eden was located in Kentucky this year of superabundance, and our first parents still alive, they could eat all the apples they wanted without subjecting themselves to any punishment, except such as might be inherent to apples "in our midst." Just think of the forbidden fruit going begging at 20 cents a barrel.—Louisville Commercial.

ASA S. BUSHNELL.

Nominated for Governor by the Republican Party of Ohio.

Asa S. Bushnell, nominated for governor by the Ohio republicans, is the eldest son of Daniel and Harriet Bushnell. He was born in Oneida county, New York, September 16, 1834, moving from there to Cincinnati with his parents when a child. In 1851 he came to Springfield, in which place he continued to reside. The first three years

In the city of Springfield, then but a very small town, was spent as a clerk in a dry goods store, after which he became a bookkeeper. In 1857 he formed a partnership with Dr. John Ludlow in which he continued the drug business, which he continued until 1860, when he became interested in the concern of which he is now the head, under the name of Warder, Bushnell & Glesner company. During the war he was captain of company E, One Hundred and Fifty-second regiment O. V. I., which company he recruited, and served as its captain in the Shenandoah valley, under the command of Gen. Hunter, in 1861. In 1860 he was appointed quartermaster general by Gov. Foraker, in which position he served four years. He was one of the delegates-at-large to the national convention in 1892, all of which positions were given him without solicitation upon his part. His generosity is proverbial. At a time he presented the city of Springfield with a patrol wagon and team of horses, and at another time a bronze drinking fountain, and again donated $10,000 to secure the location near Springfield of the Ohio Masonic home.

S. H. Sullivan, the widely known fire insurance man, was found dying in a field on his farm in Todd county one day last week. His left side had been almost torn away by the discharge of a shotgun. He said his gun had gone off accidentally as he was climbing a fence. Mr. Sullivan was assistant of the Columbian Fire Insurance company. He carried $75,000 life insurance, $50,000 of which he had taken out recently.

One can stumble and fall down a flight of stairs in a moment, but to ascend requires a steady step, one by one. A reputation may be lost by a single misplaced step which it took many years to mount in the esteem of others. Only he can fall who is up, and the higher he has ascended the more rapid the descent and the harder the thud at the bottom. He who is on the table lands of public approbation should calculate the force of the high winds that sweep the summit of a mountain range.—Selected.

Far Surpasses Anything Known.

Dr. A. F. JENNINGS, writes:

"Cander compels me to say that the effect of Dr. Fenner's Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic is and with such promptitude far surpasses anything I had ever met with or known during a similar course of curative medicine. It operates on the causes of those diseases, hence they yield of record to the cure."

Dr. Fenner's Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic never fails.

It is a Sarsaparilla-Mandrake-Prince's Pine Alterative, Nerve Tonic and Restorative Compound.

Cures biliousness, headaches, constipation, dyspepsia, irritability, sleeplessness, "the blues," avoiled glands.

All blood impurities, skin diseases, scurful,ague, dizziness, "dull and achy," "tired," stomach and bowel disorders, blotches, pimples, moths, syphilis, eruptions of nerves, offensive breath.

It does these great cures because it physics from the blood, liver and tissues all the impurities, "ashes and debris" as it were.

It weakens but all the while strengthening instead.

It causes the Liver to throw off its Bile.

It cleans out the entire alimentary canal, stomach and bowels alike, ridding them of all effete, offensive and slimy mucus, worms and other vermin.

Restoring sleep, appetite, flesh, strength, comfort, freshness and bloom—in a word health.

Including self-poise to the nervous system, and both sweetness of breath and disposition.

Its speed in its action, improvement beginning as soon as the first dose is swallowed.

And as certain as the law of gravitation.

Note the high standard of testimonials in circular at drug stores and around bottles.

They are such as only the highest order or merit could command—voluntary offerings from the cottage, princely palaces and offices of State.

Recording cures of cases more grave and complicated than ever before successfully reached by medicine.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
THURSDAY, August 22, 1895.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Governor,
P. WAT HADIN, of Mercer.
For Lieutenant Governor,
R. T. TYLER, of Fulton.
For Treasurer,
R. C. FORD, of Clay.
For Auditor,
L. C. NORMAN, of Boone.
For Register of the Land Office,
G. B. SWANGO, of Wolfe.
For Attorney General,
W. J. HENDRICK, of Fleming.
For Secretary of State,
HENRY S. HALE, of Graves.
For Supt. of Public Instruction,
ED PORTER THOMPSON, of Owen.
For Commissioner of Agriculture,
ION B. NALL, of Louisville.
For the Legislature—91st District,
JOSEPH C. LYKINS,
Of Wolfe.

Kentucky has had forty-eight murders since July 1, an average of about one a day.

The Democrat who allows himself to be led away from his party by the flimsy arguments of Republican "chin-peddlers" ought to be bored for the sinners.

Jim Corbett has married the girl that caused the trouble. Now if his divorced wife will marry "Fitz," Jim won't have a ghost of a chance in the fight at Dallas.

There is plenty of time yet for speculation on the United States senatorial nomination. Forty-four representatives and eight senators are yet to be nominated.

Hon. J. C. Lykina is taking things easy since his nomination for representative. Well may he, as Mr. Seitz has no more show for election than the proverbial snowball in hades.

Everyone who has the interest of their town and section at heart should boom the fair. It is held expressly for the mountain people, the prizes and purses being distributed among them exclusively, and all should lend a helping hand in making it a success.

Louisville is making great preparations for the G. A. R. meeting to be held in that city in September. This will be the first time the organization has met south of the "Mason and Dixon line," but we are sure that after they have partaken of Kentucky hospitality, they will come again.

Anyone who sells extract of cinnamon and the like for intoxicants is subject to indictment just the same as if they had sold whiskey. Even those who have a license to sell all kinds of liquors cannot sell to an inebriate without a violation of the law. People interested should take note of this.

The Republicans of the Seventeenth district, composed of the counties of Rockcastle, Knox, Bell, Jackson and one-half of Whitley and Laurel counties, will on Monday nominate a candidate for state senator. J. D. Jarvis, it is thought, will be the man. As this district is largely Republican, his nomination will be equivalent to an election.

The Mountains and the Blue Grass.

It hasn't been so very long ago since our blue grass cousins held the mountain counties as a section where crime stalked in all its hideous forms and where lawlessness was the rule rather than the exception. While it is true that some of the mountain counties merited the unenviable notoriety they had acquired by reason of feudal warfare and a disregard for human life, still there were conditions existing in the mountains then that the blue grass country cannot plead in extenuation for the lawless and bloody deeds committed within her borders every day.

There was a time, and recently, too, when schoolhouses and churches, in some of the mountain counties, were institutions unknown. There were none of the refined, cultured and elevating influences which surround those favored ones of the blue grass. Law and order, under such conditions, could scarcely be expected.

But a change has come and a wave of reform has swept over the mountain counties of Eastern Kentucky. School houses dot its hills and valleys and church spires pierce its azure skies, while the newspaper flourishes in every community and is a welcome visitor into almost every home. The majesty of the law is respected and upheld and evil-doers are made to understand that they will not be tolerated, and consequently there are few of this class now to be found in the mountains.

But while the mountains have progressed our blue grass neighbors have retrograded, and each day brings tidings of some atrocious crime committed within their borders. Murder has become so common that it hardly attracts attention, and convictions are comparatively few. Since July 1, forty-eight men have met tragic deaths at the hands of their fellow man, and seven-eighths of these crimes have been committed in the cultured and highly enlightened blue grass country. Where is the boasted civilization, that the conditions are such that one man can slay another, and if possessed of money or high family connection, he can laugh at the law and go scott free, to be a constant menace to the lives of law-abiding citizens?

Well may Kentucky be called the "Dark and Bloody Ground." Her soil is saturated with the blood of the victims of the Kentuckian's deadly and ever ready pistol and the widows and orphans of the murdered dead cry out to heaven for vengeance.

The rugged East Kentucky mountaineer has set an example that the blue grass colonel could well profit by.

Uphold the majesty of the law. If a man commit a capital crime, impose the death penalty, whether he be rich or poor. A few yards of rope legally and judiciously used would have a salutary effect.

The blue grass country has a rare opportunity to use some of her surplus hemp. Will she do it? Time will show.

O. H. Pollard, a McCreary man, has been nominated by the Democrats of Breathitt, Lee and Magoffin to represent them in the next general assembly. Mr. Pollard is a most excellent gentleman and is editor of the Beattyville Enterprise. He defeated Charley Sublett, of Salersville, well known in this section. The district is dangerously close and Mason Cope, a Republican, was elected last time over J. J. C. Bach, Democrat. Mr. Pollard is extremely popular in his section and Lee county may now be safely counted Democratic.

That circuit judge whom everybody thought to be dead, turned out to only be "dead drunk." He ought to be relieved of the duties of his high office and in his stead let a man turn the wheels of justice who is not only capable, but who is moral as well, and who has no "monkey business" about him.

The latest candidate on the Republican ticket for the legislature from Bath and Rowan is Samuel McKee Bradley, of the firm of Bradley Brothers, of Morehead. Mr. Bradley is 26 years old, a man of commanding appearance and a first-class business man. He is a brother of ex-County Superintendent Hiram Bradley and related to Col. W. O. Bradley, Republican candidate for governor. Mr. Bradley has never been a candidate for any office before, but has been actively engaged in local politics. He is one of the proprietors of the Morehead Advance.

The first guns of the great Hardin-Bradley debate were fired at Louisville Monday night. Fully 5,000 people crowded the Auditorium to hear the claims for political preferment of each candidate. General Hardin made a masterly address, reviewing the illustrious and patriotic record of his party for the last half century, and showing up the weak spots in the unenviable record of the Republicans, tearing into shreds and tatters their presumptuous claims to honesty and economy in the administration of state and national affairs. Mr. Bradley also made a good address, in which he juggled with the "Queen's English" and cunningly sought to clothe the Republican skeleton in a robe of virtue and purity. But he can't fool the voters. The debate was free from personalities.

The tenth annual session of the Hazel Green Academy begins on September 2. The outlook is brighter than ever before and possible twenty boarders from half a dozen counties will matriculate on the first day. No better school can be found east of Lexington and the people of this and adjoining counties should give it a most liberal patronage.

MINISTERS OF THE GOSPEL ENDORSE

ELECTROPOISE.

Rev. John I. Rogers, Danville, Ky. It is a mercy to me, almost a miracle.
Rev. Z. Meek, Catlettsburg, Ky. I have used the Electropoise for five years and find it invaluable as a curative agent, especially in cases of feeble women and delicate children.

Rev. Robert Barrett, Louisville Baptist Seminary. Electropoise cured after all other remedies failed.
Rev. W. W. Bruce, Hustonville, Ky. Electropoise cured opium habit.
Rev. Geo. Meane, Covington, Ky. In one night the Electropoise relieved brain congestion and vertigo.

We could fill this paper with similar reports, but think this sufficient to interest you in sending for book on the subject of health. Electropoise rented four months for $10.00.

Elder J. A. Howard is still sick with typhoid fever at his home near Ezel.

Miss Ingels will begin a class in music at the Academy the first week in September.

Rev. J. T. Pieratt is still dangerously ill. We hope soon to chronicle his recovery.

The farmers on Lacy creek are threshing wheat this week. They report a fair crop.

The streets of our town are not in good repair. The authorities should see to it at once.

Boys, don't stop and gaze at people, no matter what they are doing. It shows bad breeding.

Wanted, a woman to do cooking, washing and ironing; good home, best wages. Apply at this office.

Rev. Ira Hicks, the weather prophet, says we may look for cooler weather about the 25th to the 28th.

Prof. Cord left Monday for Stanford to attend the regular state meeting of the Christian church.

Four and a half and $4.75 are being offered for stock hogs at Lexington, and $4.00 for fat hogs, October delivery.

Mr. J. B. Fernholt came all the way from Cincinnati to see his best girl, who, by the way, is one of our most beautiful and accomplished young ladies.

J. T. Day left on Sunday last for Jackson. His buggy was "derailed" on Frozen, making a considerable wreck. Jesse picked himself up out of a ditch.

Next Monday the Wolfe county Teachers' Institute convenes in our town and our people should see that the teachers and instructors have a pleasant time.

Miss Maggie Kash, of this place, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Floyd Day, of Jackson, returned home Saturday. She reports a delightful trip.

Miss Cora McGuire, who has been visiting at Beattyville, St. Helena and other places for two months past, is now at home. She reports a most enjoyable visit.

Uncle Milton Gibbs, of Caney, a gay widower of seventy-nine winters, called on us yesterday. He has been married six times and is still in the ring, so the boys say.

John Brewer had the misfortune to lose his house by fire a few days ago. Nothing of any consequence was saved. No insurance. Now is the time his friends should remember him.

"Old black Noah" has been engaged to take charge of the training stables and will begin his duties in that capacity next week. Another from Mt. Sterling will also be here today.

Miss Laura Rawlings left today for her home in Covington, where she will spend a short vacation. She was accompanied by her little friend, Pearl Day, who will go to Cincinnati to have her eyes treated. Miss Laura will visit other places while away, but will return home and resume her business as milliner and dressmaker.

The infant of David Rose and wife is very low.

Young man, are you contemplating going to college this year? If so, give the Hazel Green Academy a call and see what it offers you.

Impure blood is the cause of boils, pimples and other eruptions. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and cures these troubles.

Dr. Tipton, who lives up on Red river, about five miles east of here, had two of his ribs broken Wednesday by his horse falling on him. Dr. Kash, of this city, attended him.

The Kentuckians without an exception are a success financially and otherwise. If proper interest is taken, our own fair will not prove an exception. Remember the date, October 2, 3 and 4.

Messrs. Cecil and McGuire, two excellent young men from Cedar Bluff, Va., are visiting friends in and about Hazel Green. We hope their stay in our midst will be a most pleasant one.

J. C. Murphy has sold his farm on the Murphy fork of Grassy to Buchanan Rose, of Lee City, for $3,000, $1,000 to be paid in stock. Mr. Murphy goes today to Illinois, where he will probably make his future home.

Jo Loe Henry and Hannibal Cooper, of West Liberty and Sellersville respectively, were in our midst the first of the week. Mr. Cooper is in the telephone business, and is now working up a line between Mt. Sterling and Ezel.

On last Sunday Elders W. L. Lacy and A. B. Stamper and others, conducted services at Old Grassy church. A large crowd was present and took great interest in Brother Lacy's sermon. Before noon, after which they served dinner on the ground.

Knowing one says that this winter will be a hard one on bees. Their cells will be filled from the pomaces from the numerous distilleries, which will saturate the full, leaving them nothing to eat in the winter months. Beekeepers should take warning and prepare for the coming bee famine.

Mrs. J. M. Pieratt, of Ezel, Ky., Mrs. Eudine O'Hara, Paris, Illinois, and Mrs. T. E. Frazier and daughter, Miss Grace, of Charleston, Illinois, are visiting Judge G. B. Swango, at his residence in South Frankfort. The three ladies first married are sisters of Judge Swango.—Frankfort Capital.

Quite a commotion was raised at a Baptist association in this community last Lord's day. One brother said that God had saved him from his sins, and had done so against his will. "It was against my will then," said he, "is against it now, and always will be."  He did not conclude his experience.

The school in District No. 82, at Powell schoolhouse, is progressing nicely, with R. A. Hord as teacher. Mr. Hord is from Hazel Green. He is an accomplished young gentleman, 18 years of age, and we predict he will make us an excellent teacher. We wish him success.—Winchester Democrat.

Goods are sometimes "evils," as Franklin wisely observed. A liver pill is good for extreme cases of biliousness, but milder and equally effective remedy in all cases of biliousness are Ranton's Tonic Liver Pills and Pellets. Your druggist always carries them in stock, and they cost but 25 cents. This remedy cures completely, but without the severity of the average laxative. Sample free.

Our Own People

Tell What

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has Done for Them.

"When our baby was three weeks old he broke out with sores which the doctor called a severe case of scumma. We tried everything that we could think of but he failed to get relief. We consulted several doctors but their medicine was of no avail. Seeing a similar case which had been

Cured by Hood's

Sarsaparilla we determined to try it. I procured some of this medicine and it proved to be the only thing which gave satisfaction. Our child is now two years and eight months old and weighs 40 pounds. He is a sprightly lad and is very fleshy. He has been completely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This has proved a celebrated case in this vicinity and his cure has been a surprise to all those who know about it." J. T. WHALEY, Hazle Green, Kentucky.

The record of remarkable cures effected enables us truthfully to say that

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Only

True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today. Be sure to get Hood's and only Hood's. Do not be induced to buy any other.

Hood's Pills may be bought easy to take, easy in effect, 25c.

What we say at home when things don't go right is a more reliable test of our spiritual state than what we say in church when they do go right.

Thos. D. Jones, of Mt. Sterling, arrived in our city last Sunday night. His little son Kelley, who is with his mother at J. T. Days, drank some ammonia last Saturday and for a while it was thought it would prove fatal. By the time Mr. Jones arrived, however, his little son had recovered through treatment of Dr. Taulbee, and was at himself. Mr. and Mrs. Jones, with their family, left today for their home in the suburbs of Mt. Sterling.

The Hazel Green Fair, the Hazel Green Academy and last, but not least, the Hazel Green HERALD, are the three greatest institutions in the mountains. All are worthy, clean and capable in their respective lines of work and all deserve your unbounded patronage. Furthermore they all "live and have their being" from the support of their benefactors, and in view of this fact, we urge you to their aid. Come, boom them all.

The Lexington and Eastern railroad company have begun to grade a branch road from Lumber Point, in Lee county, to the Sturgeon coal fields, six miles below Beattyville. The road will be on the Proctor side of the Kentucky river and will be about twelve miles long. This will be a paying move for the Lee county people, but will operate heavily against the Winchester and Beattyville road, which connects Beattyville to the Lexington and Eastern at W.

 PORTSMOUTH, OHIO.

When you want the BEST Boots or shoes call.

On the day at Mt. Sterling, there was about 1350 cattle on the market. The quality was about as good as usual and the sales were brisk at the prices.

Buyers of heavy feeders did not seem as anxious to invest as were buyers of lighter cattle. This and adjoining counties are at this time getting a little dry, and farmers are not in as good spirits as they were a month ago. The best feeders brought $4½, but very few sold at that figure, the bulk selling at from $3 to $3½. Yearlings sold according to quality $4 to $4½. Cows and heifers sold at from $2 to $3.60, but the latter figure was seldom reached, and they were extra that brought $2½. Our mountain friends must remember that it takes the best class of stock to bring top figures.

At Fitzpatrick's yards we noticed the following stockmen with cattle: From Morgan county—Sal-yers & Co., 57 cattle; Canney & Little, 20; Holiday, 35; Conch & Downing, 60; J. W. Perry, 40; Stafford & Co., 67; Walters & Stamper, 27; E. P. Lewis, 2 yoke of cattle.

Wolfe county—W. T. Swango, 141; J. M. Rose, 74; A. J. Hol-lon, 35.—Advocate.

Red River School, District 24.

On examination of pupils for the month of August, the general average reached in the different grades are as follows:

GRADE 5.—Eddie R. Jones, 96.5-0; Woodson Little, 90.3; Sam H. Nickell, 93.2; Buford Nickell, 90; Carrie Amyx, 94.3; Eva Tipton, 92.3; Maud Wilson, 91.4; Logan Wilson, 90; Matthew Amyx, 90.3.

GRADE 4.—Clara Nickell, 95; J. Tom Jones, 90; Marion Nickell, 93.4; George Amyx, 91; Lizzie Nickell, 87; Sam Amyx, 85.

GRADE 3.—Fannie Easterling, 90; Robert Tipton, 90; Jennie Amyx, 88.

GRADE 2.—Cora Wilson, 92; Effie Easterling, 92.

In behalf of those whose names have been omitted, I must say that within ten years of experience in different localities, I have never seen a more intelligent or brighter assemblage of children than they who gather at the Red River school house. Every one seeming imbued with the desire to excel and to achieve greater knowledge by tireless exertion, and so by a plain and pleasant presentation of facts and illustrations, the usually dull routine of school duties seem to them a pleasure rather than a bore.

ALICE AMYX, Teacher.

Never did cider find such a ready sale as it did last Monday at Mt. Sterling. Two men from Caney, Morgan county, Oliver Prater and Charles Frisby, came in with a barrel of stuff which they claimed to be the pure and unadulterated juice of the apple, and set up business on one of the principal streets of the city. It don't take a Mt. Sterling crowd long to get on to a good thing—especially if there is drink in it—and it wasn't long until Messrs. Prater and Frisby had a regular "Oklahoma rush" of business. The crowd attracted Deputy U. S. Marshal Pat Punch, who, it is said, can smell a moonshine distillery two miles away, and he swooped down on the outfit and landed the enterprising proprietors in jail. The cider (?) was a fair article of that nectar of the gods, brewed when the harvest moon is at the full.

Too Bad, Isn't It?

Two good Democrats were whit-tling on a dry goods box yester-day, when one expressed his belief that the Republicans would carry the state this fall. "Yes," said the other, "the world is getting wicked and wicked all the time. If the Republicans do carry the state I want my Heavenly Master to call me up at once."

"Incurable."
We know that it sounds queer to talk about the Electropole curing incurable diseases, but bear in mind the fact that it is the old treatment that has been pronounced incurable. We do not make the claim that we can cure all incurable diseases, but we do warrant with all earnestness that a case pronounced incurable by your family physician is a splendid field for the operation of the Electropole. It may be the treatment necessary, and it is equally likely to be so. If it fails, this is no argument against the "Pole," but in such a case, the fact of the physician's statement is proven to be true. But more the patient who has been given up by his physician who has again received his through treatment of the Electropole.

John Johnson, the negro ex-slave, who complained, just before the trip, was sprung, that he was "getting warm," and told the sheriff to "hurry up and let's get through with this business." No doubt "his Satanic majesty" had just thrown a few shovels of coal into the furnace that he was preparing for Johnnie, and his close proximity to his final destination caused him to feel its intense heat.

Mr. C. G. Strohm, principal of the public schools at Anderson, Cal., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have found it an excellent remedy for lameness and slight wounds."

Lameness usually results from a sprain, or other injury, or from rheumatism, for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm is especially intended and unequalled. It affords almost immediate relief and in a short time effects a permanent cure. For sale by John M. Rose.

Many a man goes to the pit for good because he digs a pit for somebody else, and then falls into it himself.

Better From Toliver.
TOLIVER, Ky., August 19, 1895.
Rev. J. W. Doane, of Campden, has recently closed a revival meeting in our neighborhood, and organized a Congregational church of more than twenty members. Rev. Doane has led several of our people to Christ, and we pray that the good work may go on. A building committee will soon be appointed for the erection of a church, and all friends who are interested in our neighborhood are invited to lend us a helping hand.
